

Deliver Unified and Responsive Customer Communications

The customer communications landscape is rapidly evolving, driven by changes in regulations, market conditions, and customer behavior. Oracle Financial Services Communication Cloud Service helps you stay on top by reducing the complexity, overhead, and cost of change.

Achieve intelligent communications

The digital revolution is here and growing in response to world events and the desire to do business from anywhere. Remove obstacles to agile and responsive communication and clear the way for stronger, more profitable customer relationships.

Simplify compliance and reduce risk

The cost of noncompliance can be steep—encompassing fines, legal costs, and lost credibility. Cut costs and risks with comprehensive content libraries, tight control, and the flexibility to adapt easily to ever-changing requirements.

Reduce overhead and IT complexity

Organizations are laser-focused on driving costs out of core business functions such as customer, regulatory, and employee communications. Enjoy a low cost of entry and pay-as-you-go model, all while reducing your IT management burden.

Reasons to move your customer communications to the cloud

Firms are mired in communication complexity, whether presenting customers with a new offer, delivering monthly statements, or serving up time-sensitive, event-driven information. It doesn't have to be this way.

Clear skies are ahead with Oracle Financial Services Communication Cloud Service.

1. Achieve instant gratification. Agility is nonnegotiable in an era where time-to-market expectations are measured in hours or days instead of months.
2. Save early and often. Financial institutions are laser-focused on driving costs out of core business functions such as customer, regulatory, and employee communications.
3. Choose your own path and pace. Firms are looking for faster, easier, and lower risk paths to modernization.
4. Deliver more meaningful, responsive communications. Providing a quality customer experience is more critical than ever. Highly personalized communication sets the stage for success.
5. Automate modernization. Achieve IT nirvana: continuous automation with lower risk and fewer business disruptions.
6. Empower IT to focus on what IT does best—drive innovation. IT pros want and need to focus on innovation, not on maintaining legacy infrastructure and platform updates.
