Professional Services

Professional Services

Whether you're a consulting business, accounting firm, law firm, staffing provider, or business services provider, you must be exceeding client expectations every time, everywhere. Improve operations and scale globally by connecting finance, HR, project management, and additional lines of business to better understand client needs, identify opportunities for growth, and increase profitability.

Key Imperatives for Professional Services

- 1 Exceed customer expectations and compete on value
- 2 Strategically leverage mergers and acquisitions for growth and competitive edge
- 3 Attract, recruit, and retain top talent
- 4 Streamline operating costs and protect operating margins to grow your business at scale

Forces Shaping the Professional Services Industry

INDUSTRY CHALLENGES

People

Labor shortage and limited lifestyle flexibility make it difficult to attract and retain next generation of talent.

Client Engagement

Driving competitive differentiation through new service offerings, flexible delivery models, and a global workforce.

Profitability

Professional services firms face ever-growing demands from their clients to deliver increased value faster and provide a clear return on their investment.

Technology

Process and information silos from mergers and acquisitions make it difficult for employees to be effective in the back office and on the field.

Innovation

Developing a culture of innovation and collaboration in a hybrid work environment as employees join with high digitization expectations and clients have increasing expectations for innovation.

VISION OF SUCCESS

The ability to grow and retain a diverse next generation workforce enabling employees to do their best work, develop their careers anywhere in the world, and enjoy work life balance.

Loyal customer base with steady expansion of existing clients and strong win rates for new business with a subscription-based billing model and analytics to gain early client insight.

Refined processes to communicate and deliver greater project value—focus on efficient execution and successful outcomes through modern project methodologies, flexible delivery models, continuous change management, and collaborative project teams.

Data-driven business with connected processes and centralized data repositories for HR, projects, finances, marketing, and sales that enable smarter staffing, talent management, cost management and service delivery.

Investing in new technology-based services and cross-generational technology experiences so professional services are best placed to communicate and deliver their benefits to clients securely from anywhere.
