Company Overview

Established in 1993, ACTIVE stands for action, challenge, teamwork, imagination, vision, and expansion. The company specializes in system consulting, helping customers with activities ranging from business analysis and investigation to system planning. ACTIVE's employees focus on developing trusted, custom business applications and instructing end users on software operation to ensure rapid adoption and return on investment. For example, ACTIVE Switch is a custom channel manager application for the hotel industry. In addition, ACTIVE sells software packages and computer hardware to support customer's business requirements.
